

Informed Consent - Advisely Focus Group

Purpose: To inform about, and receive feedback regarding our application, Advisely.

Procedure: As is being described, this session is to gather your initial thoughts about Advisely. You will be given 10-20 minutes to familiarize with the application. During this time you're welcome to ask questions or engage with the development team. Following this, you will be asked to complete 10 tasks within the application in 20 minutes. These tasks are designed to be linear. Following this, there will be a Q&A session so that the development team might understand your sentiments about the application.

Risks: As is required for this survey, we will be marking down your names along with any questions and comments you make. This information will only be shared among the members of our development team and our professor: Sam Elliott, Jens Hansen, Connor Langlois, Eli Legere, Eric Schessler, Spencer Ward, and Dr. Sepideh Ghanavati.
